DETAILED ACTION

This application is a continuation of 08/787,044, filed January 28, 1997, which is a continuation of 08/352,196, filed December 1, 1994, now US Patent 5,605,822, which is a continuation of 08/100,337, filed July 30 1993, now abandoned, which is a continuation of 07/628,343, filed December 17, 1990, now abandoned, which a continuation in part of 07/366,639, filed June 15, 1989, now abandoned, which is the 371 national stage filing of PCT/US90/03438.

Claims 1-26 are pending and currently under examination.

Election/Restriction

Restriction to one of the following inventions is required under 35 U.S.C. 121:

- I. Claims 1-14 and 26 drawn to a method of growing human hematopoietic cells in culture comprising combining stromal cells and hematopoietic cells suspected of comprising neoplastic cells, and harvesting said hematopoietic cells, classified in class 435, subclass 1.1.
- II. Claims 15-20, drawn to a bioreactor containing stromal cells, classified in class 435, subclass 283.1.
- III. Claims 21-25, drawn to transformed fibroblast cells expressing a human growth factor, classified in class 435, subclass 325.

Art Unit: 1632

The inventions are distinct, each from the other because of the following reasons:

Inventions I and II are related as process and apparatus for its practice. The inventions are distinct if it can be shown that either: (1) the process as claimed can be practiced by another materially different apparatus or by hand, or (2) the apparatus as claimed can be used to practice another and materially different process. (MPEP § 806.05(e)). In this case a method of culturing the cells does not require a bioreactor and can be practiced in other types of vessels.

Additionally, the bioreactor containing stromal cells can be used to culture other cell types which require a stromal cell layer, such as mouse embryonic stem cells.

Inventions III and I-II are unrelated. Inventions are unrelated if it can be shown that they are not disclosed as capable of use together and they have different modes of operation, different functions, or different effects (MPEP § 806.04, MPEP § 808.01). In the instant case the different inventions of groups I-II are drawn to making hematopoietic stem cells while the invention of group III is drawn to a composition of genetically modified fibroblasts. The method of group I does not result in modified fibroblasts, nor are modified fibroblasts used in the method or reactor of groups I-II. Modified megakaryocytes are materially different from unmodified megakaryocytes and may possess properties which would not be inherent to unmodified cells.

These inventions are distinct for the reasons given above and have acquired a separate status in the art as shown by their different classification and have acquired a separate status in the art because of their recognized divergent subject matter. Further, the search required are not co-extensive for each group and a complete search for one group would not be adequate for each of the remaining groups. Therefore, restriction for examination purposes as indicated is proper.

Applicant is advised that the reply to this requirement to be complete must include an election of the invention to be examined even though the requirement be traversed (37 CFR 1.143).

Applicant is reminded that upon the cancellation of claims to a non-elected invention, the inventorship must be amended in compliance with 37 CFR 1.48(b) if one or more of the currently named inventors is no longer an inventor of at least one claim remaining in the application. Any amendment of inventorship must be accompanied by a request under 37 CFR 1.48(b) and by the fee required under 37 CFR 1.17(i).
